"It's unprecedented," says FIFA producer, Michael de Plaesse. "It's different from anything we've done before in that it encompasses all aspects of gameplay. One really big aspect of it, and what makes it so exciting, is that it puts all of the core aspects of the game through a motion capture technology lens and sees all those mechanics as real things players have to think about in the heat of the moment. "The player will now know that - when tackling or putting on the wrong foot when going for an aerial or when taking a penalty kick - the player is going to have to make a decision whether they can still process the information going on around them, whether they can still physically succeed. It's a question of thinking while reacting. That's something that has never been done before, so for us that was really exciting." Online multiplayer has also been given a free-roaming yet more realistic feel to the gameplay with players now able to teleport throughout the pitch freely, move around at speed like never before and feel the range of emotions of the crowds. "They're not all happy," adds de Plaesse. "Players will feel the pressure of being in the heat of the moment and make poor decisions. Players will also have all the amazing animations that are part of the FIFA series. "It is a very real world, and the players themselves can experience all these aspects. They can experience how the crowds react to things, so the foot on the ball whistling past, which is very realistic, or the referees whistle blowing on them. The players understand that they're part of the community with these animations being used, so those are all real things that can be felt. There are all those other aspects too, like the way that the ball rolls, the way that players move, and obviously the control of the ball." FIFA 22 also offers a built-in, fully customizable Ultimate Team mode, offering players the chance to take their custom FUT club to the next level. Players will be able to progress their team through three tournament types: the Story League, the Champions League and the FIFA Tournament, which will feature the game's FIFA Ultimate Team mode, along with all of the elements of the FIFA 22 mode. On top of all that, FIFA 22 will also feature dozens of new stadiums and stadiums that will be gradually revealed

Collect and manage the world's greatest players from legendary clubs like AC Milan, Barcelona, Bayern Munich and Real Madrid, all alongside superstars from across the globe. Take your favorites into new and historic match-ups, compete in meaningful club battles, gain experience points to earn coins that you can spend in the upcoming FIFA Ultimate Team Item Shop. FIFA Ultimate Team 2.0 – Now including a combined club and player career as well as introducing new cards, Ultimate Team is even more important in FIFA 22. In addition to collectible card packs available to purchase from EA Access and Origin, the Community Manager Card is a special card that can be unlocked by playing the game. The Community Manager Card allows players to unlock an additional allocation of packs from the FIFA Manager Ultimate Team offering up to 200 extra packs that can be used in the packs that are available from the in-game store. Gameplay FIFA 22 introduces core gameplay innovations, such as a new Player Impact Engine which uses a new physics-based impact system to accurately reflect the skill of players; and a new Player AI system, which delivers smart and natural player behavior. The PlayStation 4 and Xbox One versions of the game have been further enhanced with new and enhanced gameplay enhancements, such as a presentation mode which allows the player to customize the in-game camera to their exact perspective, a real-world player identification system, and 2.0.0 FIFA SDK. New Pass System FIFA 22 introduces the new dynamic and responsive playstyle 'New Pass System' which allows the player to control the tempo of the game by creating combinations on the pitch, rather than relying on set pieces. The player will have an in-depth control of the pitch, with a wide variety of play styles available to them at their disposal. The new Pass System along with the new Player Impact Engine enables skilled players to control the game and dictate the pace. By applying pressure on the opposition and disrupting their strategy, the player can create space and offer an attacking perspective. Professional Athletes In FIFA 22, players now have complete control over their player animations; including new and familiar faces that bring true-to-life character and personality to a virtual footballing universe. In addition to new faces, each athlete now comes with a suite of 'Strengths and Weaknesses'; an energy meter that reveals their potential of scoring and goal threat; and a 'Way of Playing' that enables the player

What's new in Fifa 22:

- Authentic Player Behaviour: Players have unique behaviours and reactions to their surroundings and opponents, with 4-part pro-player-AI to bring the big men to life. Use team tactics to create familiar passing sequences or isolate key players. Tactically manipulate players by using off-ball or off-target pressure, then use them in short, sharp bursts for the best results!
- Mastermind - seize the moment and think before you play. Enhance your game with all-new tech that prevents you from making brain-dead decisions! Addictions will come, but you can just let them. The "Mastermind" mechanic gives you secret control over your players, enabling you to contrive the most perfect moves before they happen. By adapting your play at the last moment, you can unlock masterpieces that would probably have been too dangerous to play otherwise.
- Coaching Moments - call the right moves and feel the impact before your opponent even sees them. Watch the celebration of goals in slow-motion and adjust your tactics immediately. Every moment matters, we've created our 'Coaching Moments' feature to supercharge you into the best game and perfect moves!
- Defence Trainer - help your defenders plan their next move ahead of time. Train them to use intuitive Defending and Demolishing techniques that let them either block, dodge, trap and score by sheer force of will. Begin each they will never be crowned Premier League Champions. This has become a fact, but then so did football's obsession with "one big-four league" in the 1970s. A tale as old as time. According to legend, the Championship started way back in 1884 in an area known as The Fiver near the banks of the River Trent in Nottingham, East Midlands. The club, located in the heart of the coal mining district, used to be known as Grimsby Town, but more recently as Nottingham Forest. There's little doubt about the new club's culture though, which has changed very little since its founding. As a local resident for nearly 30 years, I can tell you how completely different things used to be here. The boozers and barhoppers of today's city couldn't imagine a morning of football anywhere in Nottingham, let alone outside the city centre. And the grounds? They used to play to the walls of each house in the city. In fact, the pitch was the only place the local village kids were allowed to play. I remember local children enjoying the game in the surrounding streets, knocking the coal dust and dung from the coal ash out of the ball, under the sharp eyes of their mothers. The football that was played outside the city centre was
