This table is being used as a list, so I need to remove the borders to make the table look like a list. I've tried using the.removeCellBorder() method, but it doesn't work. A: I know this is an old thread, but for those looking for a straight forward and robust solution, I found this solution to be the most elegant: First you'll notice a CSS class.cellBorder, which I use to target the elements of a table, and then for the first element of the first , I add a custom class.bordered. Then I assign my.border-radius CSS properties to that specific : .cellBorder { border-collapse: collapse; border-spacing: 0; border-top: 0; border-right: 0; border-bottom: 0; border-left: 0; border-color: #999; }
