YOUNG, Appellant, v. STATE of Arkansas, Appellee. No. 4953. Supreme Court of Arkansas. June 3, 1958. *736 Thurman Arnold, Little Rock, for appellant. Bruce Bennett, Atty. Gen., by Jack Gaunt, Asst. Atty. Gen., Little Rock, for appellee. WARD, Justice. Appellant Raymond P. Young was charged with the offense of burglary by a felony information and was found guilty by a jury; he was sentenced to confinement in the state penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years. He brings this appeal and relies for reversal upon the grounds that the evidence is insufficient to support the conviction, and that the trial court erred in admitting certain evidence over his objection. It appears that the appellant, Raymond Young, was convicted in 1953 for burglary and was sentenced to confinement in the state penitentiary for a term of three years. In June of 1957 appellant pleaded guilty to this same charge and received a sentence of one year's confinement in the penitentiary to run concurrently with the 1953 sentence. That conviction was based upon a plea of guilty. Appellant was charged in this case with the offense of burglary by felony information on May 15, 1957. On June 28, 1957 the county attorney filed an amended information in which Raymond P. Young was charged with the same crime

The RCMP probe of McClintic, 33, who was convicted of first-degree murder after killing eight-year-old Sarah Bain and burying her in a field, was supposed to have included an investigation into what McClintic's former boyfriend Robert Pickton has been charged with for being a party to kidnapping and murdering her. In 2006, police raided Pickton's residence and found a computer owned by McClintic's ex-boyfriend. Police said they also seized a box of items from Pickton's yard. Police cannot charge Pickton with anything as they have already charged him with 18 charges of murder and 40 charges of first-degree murder in two other deaths, so they cannot lay any more charges based on items seized at Pickton's house. But, as a party to kidnapping, they could now lay charges against the man based on the computer files discovered in Pickton's yard.

"While the files that were discovered in the yard of the suspect's residence may not establish a nexus to criminal activity that could result in charges against Robert Pickton, the file material seized by police may be of investigative value," the special prosecutor handling the probe wrote in his most recent report. "Therefore, the RCMP have been directed to conduct a review of the file material seized by police and will seek the assistance of the Crown in reviewing the file material in order to determine if there is any reason to lay charges against the suspect." Pickton was eventually charged in 2007 with the eight murders of the women, who worked at the West

WinZip WinRar.. Candies are sold in a variety of colors, flavors and shapes. However, we have a weakness for all things pink. The Dec 22/18, 2018 issue of Korea JoongAng Daily carried an article about women who have a natural liking for pink. Rather than viewing it as a luxury fashion item, they have sold their childhood dolls for the money and achieved financial independence. According to the article, one of the women, Choi Hyun-ja, was always drawn to pink in her childhood. She wanted to buy dolls that were painted in pink, but her family wouldn't allow it. As she grew up, the dreams of pink toys never faded. Choi now runs a business that sells pink-colored candy and dolls to her customers. She started with a total of 10,000 won that she earned from selling candy and dolls to her parents, friends and neighbors. Her dad sold her candy, and the rest of her family sold the dolls. However, she doesn't do it for the money. Her passion is selling the pink items, as she wants to help kids who lack toys. Choi Hyun-ja has now taken her business to two locations in Seoul. She sells candy on the first floor, and the dolls and toys on the second floor. The article concluded by saying: "It is not easy to become an entrepreneur, but when you are passionate, you can do anything." Golden Globe Award for Best Director
